DIRECTOR

JOSEPH F. SPANIOL, JR.
DEPUTY DIRECTOR

December 20, 1977

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR:

The Federal Offenders series continues to receive attention from administrators of criminal justice systems as well as serious researchers in the field of criminology. Therefore, the series commenced in 1963 has a wider audience than the Federal judicial family.

In 1972 the series adopted a presentation format which was designed to highlight the significant statistics for the separate districts. This report provides the same amount of detail. With now three years of criminological information readers have comparisons not previously available.

The information contained in this report is a culmination of the recording efforts beginning with the deputy clerk in the district court and the clerical staff in the probation office. For this report their records were sent to Washington, D. C. where they were analyzed, keypunched and entered on computer tapes. The method of entry and retrieval has now given way to an on line computer system with terminal entry stations obtained in April 1976. This improvement, implemented in order to handle the reporting provisions of the Speedy Trial Act of 1974, will improve the reporting responsibility of the Administrative Office to the courts and as a by-product speed up the publication of the Federal Offender series.

This report was prepared by the Statistical Analysis and Reports Division under the direction of James A. McCafferty, Division Chief, and Elaine M. McVey, Chief, Judicial Information Section.

We value the comments of our readers. If you have a suggestion regarding the report, please write us.

FEDERAL OFFENDERS
IN UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURTS
JULY 1973 - JUNE 1974

INTRODUCTION

The FEDERAL OFFENDERS reports have been published since 1963. They are the result of a 1963 resolution approved by the Judicial Conference upon the recommendation of the Committee on Judicial Statistics that the Administrative Office of the United States Courts compile a separate annual report on criminal offenders in the federal courts. This report does not attempt to analyze the complex issues and problems inherent in the administration of a criminal justice system nor does it pretend to synthesize the events of the last several years to form explanations for sentencing patterns. The report does, however, provide the basic statistical facts which are open to interpretation and analysis by judges, probation officers and criminal justice researchers.

This is the twelfth report in the FEDERAL OFFENDERS series and the report format is similar to the two previous reports. Basically, there are five sets of data which reflect sentencing and demographic characteristics of defendants whose cases were disposed of in federal district courts during the twelve-month period July 1973 through June 1974. These five tables comprise the majority of the report and present data on nineteen major offense categories for ninety-one federal district courts. The territorial courts of the Canal Zone, Guam and the Virgin Islands are excluded from the 1974 data because most of their cases were local rather than federal matters.

In addition to the five major sets of data, there are fifteen historical offense tables which illustrate the disposition and sentencing trends for selected federal offenses such as, narcotics, robbery, gambling and immigration violations. A seventeen-year history, from 1961 through 1977, is provided for most of the offenses; however, data on violations of Selective Service Acts and narcotics laws are available from 1945 through 1977.

The criminal statistical tables extracted from the 1974 ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE U. S. COURTS have been reprinted in this volume in an effort to present a comprehensive picture of federal defendants during the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1974.

TYPE OF DISPOSITION

During 1974, there were 48,037 defendants whose cases were disposed of in federal district courts. Of this number, there were 11,785 or 25 percent who were dismissed and 1,766 who were acquitted by court or jury. Seventy-five percent or 36,252 of the total number of federal defendants were convicted, with 30,679 entering a plea of guilty or nolo contendere. Chart 1 illustrates the above statistics.

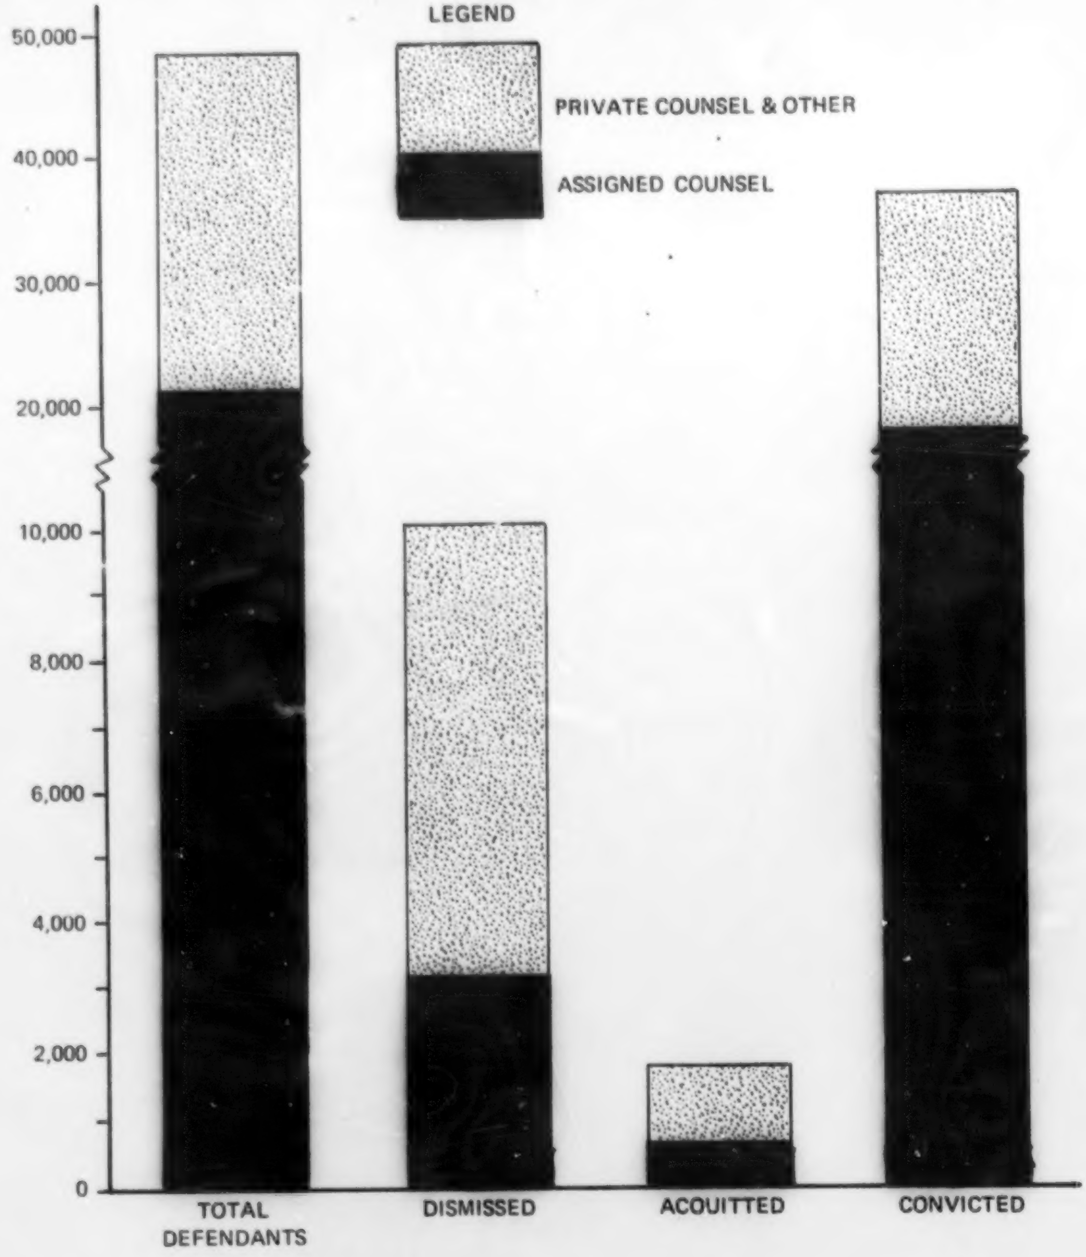

CHART 2

ASSIGNMENT OF COUNSEL

The 21,562 persons who were assigned counsel by the court comprised 45 percent of the total defendants whose cases were terminated in 1974. There were 15,701 persons represented by Criminal Justice Act (CJA) panel attorneys appointed by the court during 1974. Another 5,861 persons were represented by federal defenders. Defendants represented by assigned counsel accounted for 32 percent of all dismissals and 35 percent of the total number of persons who were acquitted by the court or a jury. Forty-nine percent of the convicted defendants were represented by either a CJA panel attorney or a federal or community defender. (See accompanying Chart 2.)

TYPE AND LENGTH OF SENTENCES OF CONVICTED DEFENDANTS (CHART 3)

Of the 36,252 convicted defendants, 13,450 were sentenced to prison, with 6,036 (45%) receiving a term of more than three years. There were 11,868 persons sentenced as adults, 1,365 sentenced under the Youth Corrections Act and 217 were adjudicated under the Federal Juvenile Delinquency Act.

Fifty-seven percent or 20,486 of the convicted defendants received a probation term. Persons sentenced as adults to immediate probation accounted for seventy-five percent of all persons sentenced to probation. There were 1,991 defendants who received a split sentence, which is a sentence to prison of less than six months followed by a term of probation. Of the 19,568 persons sentenced to probation supervision, there were 10,686 defendants or 55 percent who were to serve more than the two years.

There were 298 instances where the imposition of the sentence was suspended and there were 918 defendants who were sentenced to probation with no supervision. Of the total number of convicted defendants receiving a sentence of fine only (2,018), slightly over seventy percent were required to pay less than $1,000.

DEMOGRAPHIC CHARACTERISTICS (CHART 4)

During the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1974, there were 32,640 males convicted in federal district courts. They accounted for 90 percent of the total 36,252 convicted defendants. In 1974, the median age of federal offenders fell in the range of 25 to 29 years. There were 24,507 defendants whose prior criminal record or absence of a record was reported. Of this number, 15,170 or 62 percent reported having a prior record at the local, state or federal level. Forty-one percent had served previous probation terms while 36 percent had previously been incarcerated for more than one year.

HISTORICAL OFFENSE DATA

There are thirteen statistical tables which provided disposition and sentencing data for certain major federal offenses. In addition, historical data are presented for all offenders in the District of Columbia and in the nation. Although this is a 1974 report, the historical data have been updated through 1977. Data for the territorial courts of the Canal Zone, Guam and the Virgin Islands are included only in the 1977 figures. Beginning in 1974, offense data for the District of Columbia were included in the historical tables. These districts were previously excluded from the data because the majority of their cases were local rather than federal prosecutions.

Chart 5 indicates that the average sentence of imprisonment for marihuana violators was 32 months, the highest average since 1971 when it was almost 40 months. In 1973, the number of marihuana defendants sentenced to prison peaked at 1,998. The average prison sentence for these defendants was 28.7 months. In 1977, statistics show that the average prison sentence for marihuana offenders rose to 32.4 months and the number of persons sentenced to prison declined by 36 percent, from 1,998 to 1,286.

During 1977, the number of dispositions for violations of federal weapons and firearms laws dropped slightly after an increasing trend which began in 1970. The 3,118 weapons and firearms defendants in 1977 represented a 9 percent decrease from the previous year when there were 3,412 such prosecutions. However, the 1977 conviction rate of 81 percent was the highest recorded during the period 1970 to 1977. Of the 2,535 defendants who were convicted and sentenced for weapons and firearms violations, 1,336 or 53 percent were sentenced to prison and 1,152 or 45 percent received probation. The average sentence to prison for this type of violation was 35.6 months in 1977 which was the highest since at least 1961. The number of convictions for this offense since beginning in 1961 are shown in Chart 6.

During 1977, the cases of 2,175 Selective Service Act defendants were disposed of in federal district courts and 99 percent of these defendants were not convicted. Of the 29 convicted defendants, 22 received probation. Chart 7 shows the total defendants disposed of for violations of the Selective Service Act and those convicted. The historical table (H-10) showed be consulted when reviewing this chart.

Executive Order No. 11803, signed by President Gerald R. Ford on September 16, 1974, established the Presidential Clemency Board which was concerned with persons convicted of acts of draft-evasion committed between the inclusive dates of August 4, 1964 (Gulf of Tonkin Resolution) and March 28, 1973 (the day the last American combatant left Vietnam).

Section 2 of the Executive Order generally applied to defendants convicted of violating Section 12 or 6 (j) of the Military Selective Service Act (50 App. U.S.C.§462), or those who had received punitive or undesirable discharges as a consequence of violations of Articles 85, 86 or 87 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice or those who were serving sentences to confinement for such violations.

The Clemency Board would consider only the cases of Military Selective Service Act violators who "were convicted or unlawfully failing (i) to register or register on time, (ii) to keep the local board informed of their current address, (iii) to report for or submit to preinduction or induction examination, (iv) to report for or submit to induction itself or (v) to report or submit to, or complete service under Section 6(j) of such Act. However, the Board [would] not consider cases of individuals who [were] precluded from re-entering the United States under 8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(22) or other law." (Exec. Order No. 11803, Sec. 2).

Unconvicted draft violators under the Department of Justice program had their prosecutions dropped which contributed to the down trend in the filings as well as the closing out of many cases by dismissals beginning in 1975 with the U.S. attorneys placing such violators in Alternate Service programs.

On January 21, 1977, President Jimmy Carter issued Executive Order 11967, referred to as the Presidential Proclamation of Pardon for Violations of the Selective Service Act for the period August 4, 1964 to March 28, 1973. The proclamation provided for the Attorney General to dismiss with prejudice to the government all pending indictments for violations of the Military Selective Service Act with the exception of those cases alleging acts of force or violence and those cases where alleged acts by agents, employees or officers the Selective Service System violated the Military Selective Service Act. It further ordered the Attorney General to terminate all investigations which were pending on January 21, 1977 and to initiate no new investigations alleging violations of the Military Selective Service Act with the exceptions noted above.

Persons who had been precluded from re-entering the United States by reason of having committed, or who apparently committed, any violation of the Military Selective Service Act would be permitted, as any other alien, to re-enter the United States.

The effect of the presidental pardon was to require the dismissal of the majority of Selective Service Act violators on the criminal docket. Therefore, the dismissal of 2,142 defendants in 1977 was the third largest number of such dispositions since 1945 and effectively reduced the volume of the such pending cases to 65 on June 30, 1977. This can be compared to 2,123 Selective Service cases pending a year ago and 5,424 such cases pending on June 30, 1972.

[1] Removed under provisions of the Civil Rights Act, 28 U.S.C. 1443. The 71 defendants, whose cases are shown as dismissed, were cases remanded to State courts.

[2] Included in this column are 21 defendants who were committed pursuant to Title 28 U.S.C. 2902, of the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act of 1966.

NOTE.—Unlike tables D1, D2, and D3 which refer to criminal cases, tables D4, D5, D6 and D7 reflect individual defendants disposed of during the fiscal year in a given district court. In those situations where the defendant is disposed of in two or more criminal cases, e.g., by conviction and sentence on one indictment and by dismissal on another indictment, only the conviction and sentence (or combination of sentences where such are imposed following conviction on separate indictments) is recorded. This procedure has the effect of the procedure commonly used where in a single indictment separate charges are disposed of by conviction in one or more charges (counts) and other charges (counts) are dismissed.
